

2004 Sartori Amarone della Valpolicella Classico Corte Brà

A Proprietary Blend Dry Red Table wine from Negrar, Classico, Valpolicella, Veneto, Italy

Source	Reviewer	Rating	Maturity	Current (Release) Cost
Wine Advocate # 193 Feb 2011	Antonio Galloni	91	Drink: 2012 - 2024	$40-$43 (52)
The 2004 Amarone della Valpolicella Classico Corte Bra is the estate's more important Amarone bottling. It naturally shows more richness and density, along with a darker more inward personality. As good as this is, the French oak is a bit overdone and attenuates the finish. There is no question Sartori is working with first-class fruit; now it's up to the winemaking to be less intrusive. Anticipated maturity: 2012-2024. These are the most impressive wines I have tasted from Sartori.				